Your digital doorman

- ▶ Contactless measurement of temperature
- ▶ Check whether the mask is worn
- ▶ Integrated relay for connection to an external interface
- ▶ Including software to manage multiple systems
- ▶ Optional face detection and NFC function
- ▶ Optional hand disinfectant dispenser available
- ▶ Optional floor or table stand available

Protect your premises and therefore all people inside with a digital doorman in the entrance area. The system recognises whether someone is wearing a mask or not and measures the temperature of the person standing in front of the display, reliably and contactless. In case of high temperature and/ or the absence of a mask, the doorman is sending an audio warning signal and displays corresponding visualisation. A warning light can optionally be switched on. In combination with the available hand sanitizer dispenser, people can also disinfect their hands before entering.
